Come to Russia!
Enjoy Russia!

Dear colleagues!

We are honored to invite you to Russia.

We hope our meeting will be a good-quality event, because there cannot be random people among its participants.

We express our hopes that, despite your hard working schedules, you will decide on coming to Russia.

We will have an opportunity not only to learn new on microorganisms' handling but to escape from the hustle and bustle of, frankly speaking, the hard labor scientific routine, to make a little pause in the pace of life and enjoy gathering together.

We, the organizers, will take all possible efforts to make your short stay in the most beautiful Russian city useful, pleasant and comfortable.
